

BARRACÃO
ATODI COMMUNITY

Named “HEART OF ATODY,” the barracão (community hall) is a meeting point of cultural, political and social exchange in the Atodi village and community. (Amazon, Pará)

It is where residents can celebrate holidays and traditions, make political decisions, carry out health initiatives, and welcome guests.

IT STEMS OUT OF THE STRENGTH OF WHO BELIEVES THAT CULTURE IS A RIGHT AND AN ESSENTIAL PART OF ATODI'S HISTORY.

“A LIVING BARRACÃO REPRESENTS A LIVING COMMUNITY”

Dona Sônia, one of the community leaders

The Atodi residents communicate how starting off the hall's renovation had again lit up a flame of connection among the community members that seemed weakened in the recent years.

Built in 2001, the hall detonated over time. Without resources, the community had no way to proceed other than abandoning the place.

WORKSHOPS AND DYNAMICS ATODI

Since the first reFloresta journey, from conversations and idea exchange with the Atodi community, THE FIRST PROJECT OF THE MOVEMENT ROSE.

In 2023, the barracão architectural project got redesigned and the fundraising campaign began in order to fully restore the Heart of Atodi.

Young people from all across Brazil, alongside with Atodi community members, have already gotten hands-on to the work.

“IF THERE ARE RESOURCES, THE COMMUNITY WILL BUILD IT,”

says Seu Nilson, another community leader

To finally inaugurate the hall in its entirety, WE NEED TO RAISE FINANCIAL RESOURCES that will be invested in plumbing, masonry, exterior painting, wood, and labor. The estimated costs are:

Plumbing: US$ 615

Mansory: US$ 3,115

Painting: US$ 320

Wood: US$280

Labor: US$1,115

TOTAL ESTIMATED COST: US$5.445

May the walls that rise in this barracão stand WITNESS TO STORIES, laughter, ancestral knowledge, and ENCOUNTERS THAT WILL
RESONATE FOR GENERATIONS!

Help us complete the final stage of this dream!
